PUSTAK BHET

It is said that books are best friend and guides to a human being. When you donate your books, you give an opportunity to let those texts have new life. They end up in the hands of a young teen looking for an exciting new story to read, or they become part of a collection on someone else's shelf. Donating your books expands their purpose and influence in a fascinating way.

Lets take part in this initiative, and come forward to donate books. The books can be related to dentistry or general books like philosophical, novels, biographies, etc.

The name, contact number and email ID of the donor must be mentioned on the book. All books must be submitted in the foyer area.
