Basic Surgical Skills Hands On Workshop

Date: 11/02/2022

Venue: MGMDCH Lecture Hall 3

To celebrate the occasion of International Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery Day, on 11th February 2022, the Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Department of MGM Dental college and Hospital organized a session on “ Basic Surgical Skills” followed by a hands on workshop in association with Johnson & Johnson and Ethicon.

The session began with an enlightening lecture on “Suturing Materials and Techniques” given by Dr. Chinmay Rao.

Followed by the lecture the hands on workshop was conducted where the interns were split into 2 batches and demonstrated about how to done a surgical gown and also the process of gloving by Dr. Suraj Ahuja and Dr. Chinmay Rao. After this the demonstration of all the suturing techniques were given in a very detailed manner by Dr. Suraj Ahuja, Dr. Chinmay Rao and Dr. Padmakar Baviskar. All the interns were provided with the armamentarium and were asked to practice the different suturing techniques post the demonstration under the guidance of the demonstrators. The workshop gave us the idea that the process of suturing, on the surface, appears to be a simple affair, however, suturing can also be the most critical stage of surgery. Learning this skill is imperative to carry out the suturing process effectively. Overall it was an exceptionally fruitful session for the budding dentists.
